Since the Oundle Summer School for young organists began in 1985 we have enjoyed the company of over two hundred and fifty students who have been inspired by the glittering roster of international organists who have come to us as tutors.

This year I am pleased to welcome a faculty which is the most versatile, the youngest and the strongest, musically speaking, we have ever assembled.

To all who come to share the musical companionship of our courses I extend warmest greetings and the promise of a stimulating and rewarding week.
