Community Events

As those who return to Oundle year after year for the Festival have come to expect, O I F is not just about music; there is much more. Several community events all play their part in bringing a special atmosphere to this charming town during festival week.

New to the festival this year is a display of engraved glass by two notable artists, David Pilkington and Katharine Coleman. Their work will be on view in The Gallery in the centre of town, and is available for purchase. The Gallery is open from 10am - 1pm, and 2pm - 5pm daily, Monday to Saturday.

David Pilkington specialises in lettering and calligraphic inscriptions, mostly executed by hand. His work is in the V & A and Glaziers' Hall collections and recent commissions have included decorative glass panels for Alan Ayckbourn's new theatre in Scarborough, and memorial screens for churches.

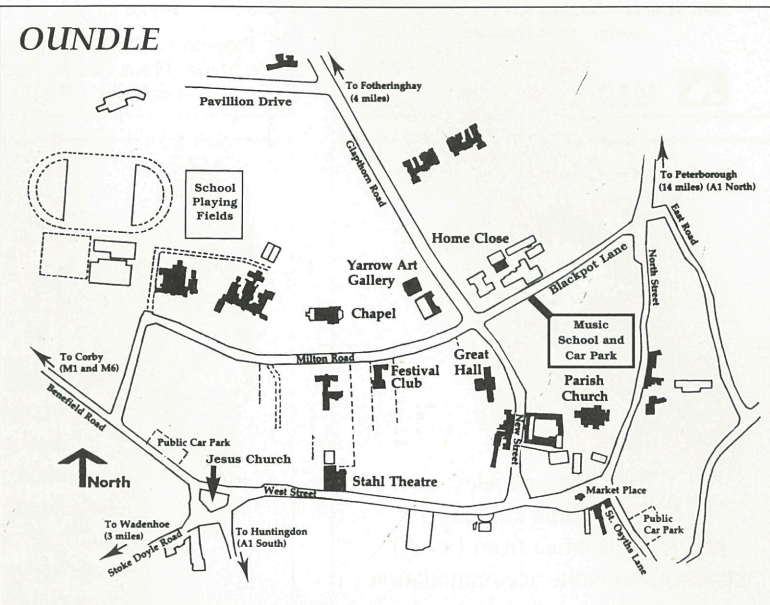

Katharine Coleman studied diamond drill and copper wheel glass engraving under Peter Dreiser at Morley College in Lambeth. Working mainly to commission she has worked in collections all over the world. A recent commission was for the Chapel Royal at St James's Palace.

Also on view at The Gallery will be one of the two exquisite harpsichords brought to Oundle by Robert Deegan of Lancaster, builder and restorer of early keyboard instruments. One of his instruments will be played during recitals given by the Quadro Corydon on Monday and Thursday, and by Jon Laukvik on Wednesday.

Once again the Oundle Artists Group will be staging an exhibition of drawings, paintings and prints by professional artists in the Yarrow Art Gallery from Saturday 6 to Sunday 21 July, from 1 - 6pm each day.

Oundle and District Horticultural Society presents its Annual Show on Saturday and Sunday, 13/14 July in Oundle School Great Hall. Classes include baking, handicrafts and photography, and there will be magnificent fruit, vegetable and flower displays. Open Saturday from 2.30 to 6pm, and Sunday 2pm to 5pm. Light refreshments will be available.

Also on Saturday 13 July, The Home Farm Trust will be holding its Annual Fete on the Home Close, Glapthorn Road, with many stalls and attractions for a family day out.
