

The Sound of Oundle

Looking forward ~ looking back

We are pleased to place in your hands our 1999 Festival brochure. We offer you classical music, comedy, art exhibitions, fireworks, film, cultural excursions and a warm welcome for individuals and families alike.

Our pre-millennium Festival introduces the stunning talents of emerging young musicians in programmes which feature the 1998 BBC Young Musician of the Year, and two other of the competition finalists; we also present established artists and entertainers who have built brilliant careers over recent decades.

The energising vision of James Macmillan's Veni, Veni Emmanuel for virtuoso percussion and orchestra finds its foil in the timeless beauty of mediaeval vocal music, sung in Fotheringhay church, a place itself steeped in history; Durufl 's Requiem combines the ancient and the modern, the chaste and the sensuous. The riveting rhythms of traditional Dixieland jazz contrast with the flair of innovative cabaret, whilst our renowned organ recitals visit every corner of the vast repertoire, featuring famous instruments at inspiring venues.

As we look back to the success of previous Festivals we look forward to welcoming you to the Sound of Oundle in 1999. Browse and book early to make valuable savings.
