Ubi caritas Maurice Duruflé
Tantum ergo (1902-1986)

Students from the Summer School make up the choir and play the organ throughout this Festival Eucharist featuring music by composers celebrating anniversaries this year, alongside works by Haydn and Mozart.

Missa Brevis Sancti Joannis de Deo is also known as the Little Organ Mass owing to its setting of the Benedictus, which includes an extended solo role for organ and soprano. It was written between 1775 and 1778 in Eisenstadt for the Chapel of the Brothers of Mercy, dedicated to St John of God.

Plainchant was the inspiration for Duruflé's motets. In Ubi Caritas the chant weaves amongst the four vocal parts, whilst Tantum Ergo offers a magnificent example of polyphonic writing.

Young Organists' Platform Concert

2.30pm

Oundle School Chapel

The handsome cases of the 1985 Frobenius organ in Oundle School Chapel are an icon to the Oundle International Young Organists Summer Schools - a movement that has developed powerfully over the last eighteen years. Hundreds of students have received tuition, advice and great opportunities from top names in the organ world, and many have proceeded into the music profession. All the 62 young organists attending the courses in Oundle and in Cambridge will receive awards and this concert features a majority of them in recital.
