

Thursday 17th July (cont)

Open-air Theatre

Illyria

Ali Baba and The Forty Thieves!

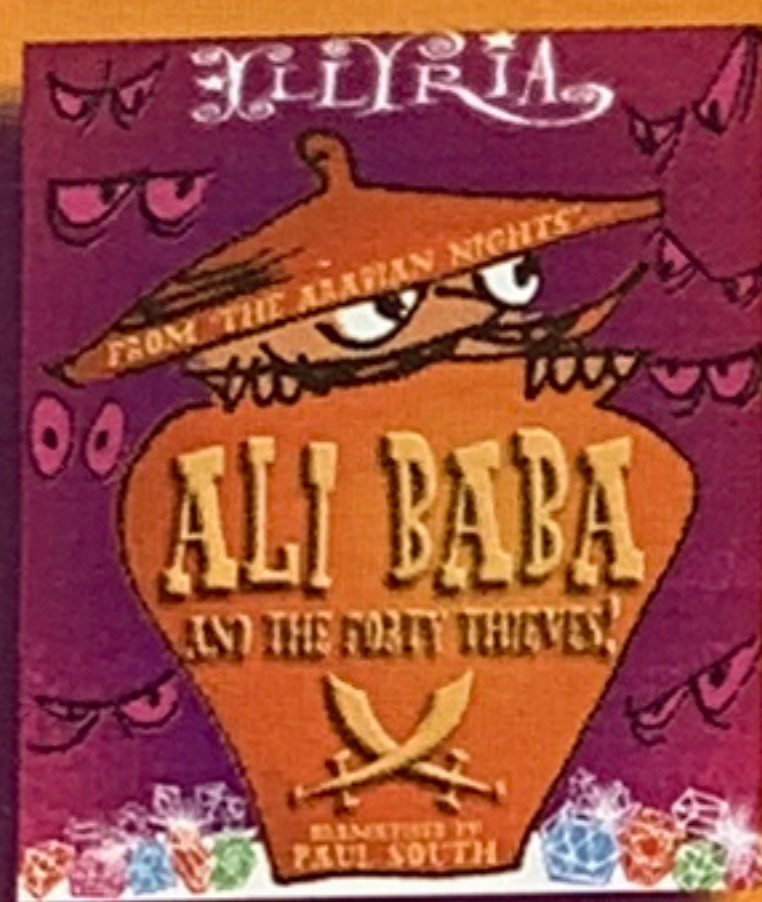

7.30pm - gates open 5pm

The Creed Chapel, Ashton (1 mile Oundle)

Tickets £10 / child £5

A warm welcome awaits the return of Illyria, whose performance last year was nothing short of spectacular! In this exciting, swashbuckling adventure from the Arabian Nights, no less than forty villains meet forty grisly, sticky and very Illyrian ends! Suitable for thieves and vagabonds aged 5 and over. Bring chairs or rugs, no seating provided. Gates open at 5pm, so bring a picnic too and enjoy the idyllic setting.

Sponsor Sodor Enterprises (CV & DW Awdry)

Jazz@Oundle

The Karen Sharp Quintet The Dylan Kay Quintet

8pm

Stahl Theatre, Oundle

Tickets £10

Saxophonist, Karen Sharp, said by Humphrey Lyttelton to be "a superb musician, fit and ready to take off", heads a formidable band of young talents, playing sparkling new renditions of standards, plus some of her own material. Guitarist Dylan Kay's exciting contemporary jazz quintet plays a rich mix of ballads, bebop and fusion. This dynamic band features the incredible Les Booth on 6-string bass.

Sponsor Gerrard

Gerrard

Twilight Organ Recital

Janette Fishell

9pm

Oundle School Chapel

Faust by Petr Eben

Tickets £7

Janette Fishell, a charismatic recitalist with a career spanning the continents, is an eminent interpreter of Eben's organ music. This visionary Czech composer conjures up the spirits of darkness in his suite recounting the famous legend of Dr Faustus; the voices of young actors add to the gothic atmosphere.

Janette Fishell

Friday 18th July

Lunchtime organ recital

Fabio Ciofini

The Young Bach

1.15pm

St Catharine's
College Chapel,
Cambridge

Tickets £5

You will be thrilled by the incisive tones of the St Catharine's organ, now splendidly restored by Flentrop of Holland, in a refreshing programme given by Fabio Ciofini, one of today's young luminaries in the performance of eighteenth century music. Bach's early organ music just exudes youthful sparkle!

Fabio Ciofini

Rory Bremner

Rory Bremner

8pm

Stahl Theatre, Oundle

Tickets £16

Book early to secure your tickets for this opportunity to see the master of satire on stage. Well known to audiences from his countless television appearances, Rory Bremner is Britain's sharpest impressionist – a one man opposition party!

Light and Movement

10pm

Yarrow Gallery, Oundle School

Tickets £3 at the door

Isabel Jones Choreographer and Dancer
Rosalind Stoddart Sculptor
Andrew Eathorne Technical Support
Soundtrack - music by Sir John Tavener

A second chance to experience a new art form at the Festival: an entrancing collage of movement, light and uplifting music, in the midst of inspiring art exhibits.