The hugely successful and popular Abba tribute band, Björn Again, will be performing at Oundle for the first time in 2005. Close your eyes and you'll be back in the 70s, flared jeans, psychedelic shirts and all. The names of Abba's hits just come rolling off the tongue: Waterloo, Knowing Me Knowing You, Mamma Mia – as The Guardian says 'Björn Again are now so successful that soon they will have a tribute band of their own called, for instance, Abba'.

Saturday 16th July

Starting off the evening is local band Take Six with vocalist Katie Gibbons; this is a young band whose members are all under the age of 25. Katie sings everything from Bessie Smith to Eva Cassidy

Next on stage is Andy Cooper's Euro Top 8. A truly European All-Star jazz band, they play an eclectic mix of the best of jazz, including Dixieland, Swing and New Orleans; irresistible for all those who want to spend the evening on the dance floor.

And then Björn Again; the old Abba songs are so popular that most people know the words to at least one or two. It's time to don the blonde wig, put on your platform shoes and sing Thank you for the music...

Bars and barbecue available. Limited number of sites for pre-booked canopies only, £20 each – please tick box on the booking form.

Please bring a picnic and chairs or rugs, no formal seating is provided.

If we needed proof that exciting new talent is in the pipeline, there was the marvellous American debut of Juho Pohjonen at Weill Recital Hall. Mr Pohjonen, offered a formidable mixed program, topped by thrilling accounts of two fiendishly difficult works by a fellow Finn, Esa-Pekka Salonen. Anthony Tomassini New York Times December 2004
