

Sunday 17th July

Twilight Recital Seicento, early music ensemble

Upon Tenors, Madrigals and Chansons

9.45pm Yarrow Gallery, Oundle School

Tickets £7

Ricardo Simian, recorder

Vincenzo Onida, curtal

Eduardo Figueroa, lute

Artists-in-residence, Seicento, are a period ensemble established in 2002 at the Ancient Music Institute of the Accademia Internazionale della Musica in Milan. They specialise in the recreation of the music of the Renaissance to the 17th century, in all its richness and vitality. This evening's programme explores the exquisite instrumental music which weaves its magic around the popular songs of the period.

The performance will take place amidst the exhibition of Swedish prints currently showing in the charming Yarrow Gallery.

Wine and soft drinks available before the performance.

Monday 18th July

Open-air theatre Illyria

Five Children and It, by E Nesbit

7.30pm (gates open 5pm)

The Creed Chapel, Ashton (1 mile Oundle)

Tickets £11 / £5 child

Five children discover a grumpy, ugly sand fairy living in a sandpit who can grant absolutely ANY wish. There are only two rules: one wish per day, and whatever is wished for will completely disappear at sundown. The children soon learn that having exactly what you want often gets you into a LOT of trouble!

This exciting new show from the author of The Railway Children marks Illyria's fifth visit to Oundle, and there is no doubt that this production will be as hilarious as all the others. For children of all ages, and anyone who has ever made a wish, here is a great opportunity to experience the delights of the theatre in a relaxed and friendly open-air setting – an absolute must! Performance ends at approximately 9.15pm.

Bring chairs or rugs, no seating provided. Parking nearby. Pack a picnic too and enjoy the idyllic setting in the garden of this Georgian chapel. Bar and coffee available.
