Open-air Theatre ILLYRIA

6.30pm (gates open 5pm) The Creed Chapel, Ashton

The Wind in the Willows by Kenneth Grahame

Cast

Alastair Chisholm, Oliver Parham, Elizabeth Park

Leela Selvon, Matthew Wood

Director, Script and Music Oliver Gray

Associate Producer Jennifer Rigby

Mole yearns for adventure, Rat adores boats and Badger likes peace and quiet. Into their lives bursts Toad, who loves VERY fast cars and just can't seem to help getting into trouble. But can the animals reform Toad's character AND evict the squatters from his ancestral pile to restore justice to the world?

Created in 1991, Illyria has been delighting audiences across Britain and in the Netherlands, Germany, the United States and Canada ever since. Under the artistic directorship of Oliver Gray the company has also won international Best Performance awards and attracted numerous Critics' Choice reviews for its lively, innovative approach to Shakespeare's plays and its high quality shows for families.

Illyria now performs more plays to more people across a wider area than any other open-air touring theatre company. It is also the principal supplier of theatre for the National Trust.

Actors working with Illyria are drawn from the RSC, Royal National Theatre, West End, British & North American film industries and every area of British television.
