French Film Season

THE BEAT THAT MY HEART SKIPPED (15)

Director: Jacques Audiard 2005

9.45pm Arthur Marshall Room, Oundle School Great Hall

'The Beat That My Heart Skipped' is a gritty psychological drama set in the dark, dank streets of Paris. The film is based on James Toback's cult film, 'Fingers'. Romain Duris stars as Tom, who works with two scheming real-estate men, Fabrice (Jonathan Zaccari) and Sami (Gilles Cohen). In his spare time Tom occasionally collects debts for his dissolute father, Robert (Niels Arestrup). A chance encounter brings back memories of Tom's mother, a concert pianist, and he decides to return to the piano, which he had given up after his mother's tragic death. He hires a Vietnamese woman, Miao-Lin (Linh-Dan Pham), as his teacher, even though they speak different languages. While struggling to regain his mastery of the piano, he is called upon by his partners to participate in shady deals and even help one of them cheat on his wife (Aure Atika).

In association with Oundle Cinema.

French, with subtitles.
