

Recently taken over by entrepreneur David Waycot, the Queens Head is a fabulous and stylish hotel located in the heart of the quaint village of Nassington, complete with a 70-seat garden room restaurant and ten en-suite chalets.

In addition there is a relaxing bar area and a private dining room - the 'snug' - which can hold between six and ten people for a more intimate occasion.

The Queens Head repertoire provides plenty of choice and uses only the freshest, local produce; selected according to season. Coupled with this is an extensive wine list, guest ales and spirits.
