Fees and Bursaries

The all-inclusive fee for the ENR/ST and POS courses is £500.

Many students gain some financial help from their school/church/local organists' association. But beyond that, we never like to turn away anyone who really should be enjoying the Oundle for Organists experience, but who may genuinely find the courses too expensive. Thanks to generous benefactors and trust funds we are often able to subsidise the cost.

Pastoral Care

At all Oundle for Organists courses, pastoral care by experienced staff is an important feature of the arrangements. POS students in Cambridge will also have a Chaplain who directs the liturgy and joins in the social life. Pastoral staff and Tutors provide CRB Enhanced Notices of Disclosure.

Awards

Oundle courses are non-competitive but the tutors assess your standard, progress and potential. Awards are offered to provide far-reaching benefits.

Books and scores

All students receive books, scores and magazine subscriptions, thanks to the generosity of sponsors and individual supporters.

Platform Concerts

Most students will be invited to play in an end-of-course composite recital:

in Oundle School Chapel
at 2.30pm on Sunday 23 July for ENR /ST;
in St Catharine's College Chapel, Cambridge
at 10.30am on Saturday 29 July for POS.

Organ recitals around the UK

Every year we offer selected students the chance to play at over sixty prestigious venues. Many ENR, ST and POS young organists are nominated to play at churches, schools and colleges all over the UK, where local organists, incumbents and parishioners provide a warm welcome. Promoters provide travel expenses (within the UK) as minimum remuneration.

OBSERVERS

Observers will be welcome at all 2006 Oundle for Organists events. This is a popular option for adult organists, teachers and music lovers of an age, offering a stimulating break in friendly company. At Oundle-based courses, observers book B&B accommodation in the area, whilst in Cambridge there may be opportunity to reside in College along with Tutors and students – or just visit for a day. Please write or telephone for further details.

Advance booking is essential and we may request Notice of Disclosure in line with our Child Protection Policy.
