The Return (12) (Russian with subtitles)

Director: Andrei Tarkovsky

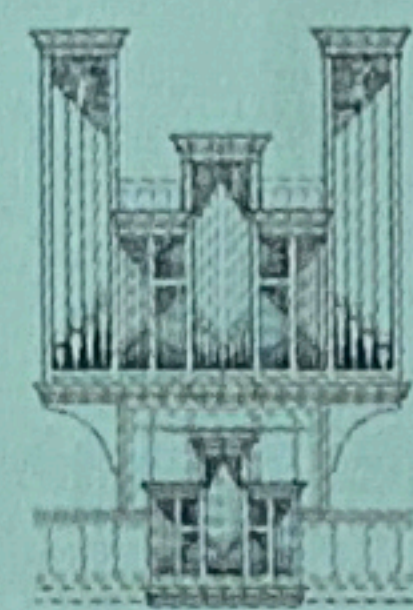

9pm Stahl Theatre, Oundle

Tickets £4 (no discounts available)

Young brothers Vanya and Andrei have an especially close bond, compensating for a childhood spent growing up without a father. Returning home after a fight with neighbourhood kids the boys are shocked to discover their father has returned after a twelve year absence. With their mother's uneasy blessing Vanya and Andrei set out on what they believe will be a fishing vacation with this enigmatic stranger. The trip turns into a test of manhood which pushes their father-son relationship to its limits as the reunion is suddenly brought to a premature end.

The film ends at 10.45pm

YOUNG ORGANISTS
PRESENTATION RECITAL

10.30am Oundle School Chapel

Tickets £7 (£5 early booking rate) / £5 under 21s

Students attending the Oundle for Organists Exploring New Repertoire and Style & Technique summer school air their current repertoire in a composite recital usually attended by significant figures in the organ world. Here is a great opportunity for Festival-goers to appreciate the talents and dedication of an emerging generation of notable organists, all currently in their teens.

Live video link from the organ loft will enable the audience to see the performer.

Please join us across the road at the Festival Club for a complimentary coffee before the concert.

The concert will end at approximately 12 noon.

Andrew Martin

1pm Festival Marquee, Milton Road

Tickets £13 (£11 early booking rate) / £5 under 21s

This colourful and visually enticing programme by the UK's leading percussion quartet includes Ghanaian balafon music, senegalese djembe drumming and a music theatre piece that involves Ensemble Bash "having dinner and waving pots and pans around".

The stage is covered with every kind of weird and wonderful percussion instrument, on which the ensemble mixes contemporary, classical, theatrical, jazz and traditional African music into unforgettable performances.

"I heard a Senegalese circumcision dance, and shared the life of a firefly. I whizzed through the Channel Tunnel. I went to a noisy dinner party and toured the constellation Cygnus. And all this without moving from my seat.... This could only have been a concert by Ensemble Bash, who make playing percussion the coolest, noisiest and funniest occupation on earth."

The Times

Refreshments available before the concert and during the interval.

The performance ends at approximately 2.45pm.

Why not make this a special event and order a light lunch from 'Smiths at No.4', which will be served in the Marquee at 12 noon. To order please phone 'Smiths at No.4' on 01832 270011 any time until 3pm the day before the concert.
