

VISIT TO BURGHLEY GARDEN OF SURPRISES and ART DEJARDIN, WING

Coach leaves at 1.30pm

All tickets £17 – pre-booking essential

The first part of the tour will visit the newly opened (in 2007) Garden of Surprises in the grounds of Burghley House in Stamford. Here you will find an experience that will delight the senses: mirrors exaggerate, mazes confuse, squirts of water distract, the dank moss house captivates, transforming sculptures dazzle, the grotto entices and the longitude dial educates and astonishes!

There will be time for a cup of tea at the Garden Cafe at Burghley for those who wish it (not included in the ticket price) before boarding the coach for the short journey to Wingwell, the delightful garden and grounds of the home of John and Rose Dejardin. Here a sculpture trail leads through the evolving garden, which has an emphasis on the bold use of plants, particularly herbaceous and grasses, as well as interesting use of dry stone walling. Carefully sited throughout the garden and adjacent woodland are contemporary works in a range of materials by notable artists, both local and national.

THE UKULELE ORCHESTRA OF GREAT BRITAIN

8pm Festival Marquee, Milton Road

Tickets £18 front (£16 early booking rate) / £5 under 21s
£16 rear (£14 early booking rate)

The Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain is provocative, entertaining and inspiring, combining music and humour in equal measure. Sitting shoulder to shoulder, they dress in formal evening wear like a symphony orchestra, reworking classics of rock 'n' roll, jazz and classical music and revelling in the triviality and self-reverence of popular and highbrow music. Audiences like to have a good time with the Ukulele Orchestra, which shows that musical intelligence and levity are not incompatible with acoustic versions of heavy metal, performance art techniques and the homage of a live karaoke.

"Impressive solo voices and an absolute mastery of strum, pluck and twang ensured the sheer joy and beauty of the music was never lost in the comedy.... Is it art or is it rubbish? Actually, it's a masterpiece!"

The Independent

Refreshments available before the concert and during the interval.

The concert ends at approximately 10pm.
